

Albury Wodonga Hume Freeway

Construction activities – NSW section

June to September 2005

Australian Government

Department of Transport and Regional Services

The Albury Wodonga Hume Freeway will link the Hume Freeway at Wodonga with the present Hume Highway at Ettamogah, north of Albury. The freeway is scheduled to open to traffic in mid 2007.

Abigroup has been contracted to design and construct the freeway. The Roads and Traffic Authority (RTA) is managing the project section in NSW. This section is fully funded by the Australian Government.

Preconstruction activities

Early works will generally occur along the entire route from Davey Road to the Murray River including:

- Establishment of site offices at Dallinger Road.
- Fencing works to secure the construction sites.
- Vegetation cleaning works generally along the whole route.
- Minor demolition works.
- Utility relocations including phone, gas, power, sewer and water.
- Preparatory works at bridge and local road locations.

Changes to traffic conditions

The community will be informed of any changes to traffic conditions.

Upcoming changes to traffic conditions to allow construction to commence in a number of areas along the freeway alignment are:

- Closure of Ettamogah Road between main Southern Railway and freeway corridor.
- Closure of Kenilworth, Centenary and Wilson Streets at Parkinson Street.
- Closure of Kenilworth Street and Wilson Street pedestrian bridges.
- Temporary reduction to one lane in each direction on Borella Road Bridge.

Construction update

There will be construction activity at the following locations:

- Dallinger/Union link road at Corrys Hill.
- Jelbart Road link.
- Borella Road bridge (bridge construction on southern two lanes).
- Bridge Street reconstruction.
- Bridge Street/Hume Street link road.
- Olive Street to Atkins Street link road.

Construction work hours

Monday to Friday 7am to 6pm.

Saturday, 8am to 1pm.

Nearby residents will be advised of any construction works occurring outside normal construction hours.
